Course Description
Under the direction of expert faculty, this course is designed to improve endoscopic practice through live case presentations, video demonstrations, and educational lectures including audience interaction and questions, as well as hands-on training using animal tissue models.

The course goals are to help participants improve their ability to accurately diagnose and effectively treat the spectrum of gastrointestinal diseases and disorders, enhance quality and safety in all practice settings, recognize trends in interventional endoscopic and surgical procedures, apply state-of-the-art technology in a cost-effective way, embrace advances in healthcare delivery, payment, and information sharing; and to foster an evidence-based approach to endoscopic decision-making for commonly encountered and controversial problems in gastroenterology.

Gastrointestinal endoscopy continues to experience rapid expansion of knowledge and technological innovation, both of which are impacting the diagnosis and treatment of gastrointestinal disorders. Additionally, advances in therapeutic endoscopy are challenging or entirely replacing certain endoscopic techniques that previously were purely diagnostic. Gastroenterologists must understand and effectively apply current and emerging diagnostic and treatment options while maximizing quality and safety. In view of these developments, the need for superior continuing education becomes increasingly important. This course will enable participants to attain and apply cutting-edge information and evolving technological innovations to elevate practice levels and enhance patient care and treatment outcomes.

Learning Objectives
- Discuss the spectrum of commonly seen disorders of the esophagus and stomach, such as gastroesophageal reflux disease, Barrett’s esophagus, motility disorders, and peptic ulcer disease, and outline related treatment options and their effectiveness
- Evaluate advances in the methods of assessing disease status in patients with inflammatory bowel disease, and discuss the application of these techniques to patient treatment
- Discuss the efficacy and safety of treatments for viral hepatitis, nonalcoholic fatty liver disease, and other chronic liver disorders
- Identify appropriate methods to detect and treat common disorders of the small bowel and colon, such as colon polyps, as well as endoscopic therapy for obesity, and review the effectiveness of these approaches
- Examine the diagnostic and therapeutic capabilities of current and emerging advanced endoscopic techniques to diagnose and treat disorders of the hepatobiliary tract, pancreas, and luminal gastrointestinal tract and to detect and manage obscure upper and lower GI bleeding

Faculty Disclosure
Albert Einstein College of Medicine requires that faculty participating in a CME activity disclose to the audience any relationship(s) with a pharmaceutical or equipment company. Any presenter whose disclosed relationships prove to create a conflict of interest with regard to their contribution to the activity will not be permitted to present.

Albert Einstein College of Medicine also requires that faculty participating in any CME activity disclose to the audience when discussing any unlabeled or investigational use of any commercial product or device not yet approved in the United States.

Accreditation Statement
This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of Albert Einstein College of Medicine and the New York Society for Gastrointestinal Endoscopy. Albert Einstein College of Medicine is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation
Albert Einstein College of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 14.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Maintenance of Certification (MOC) Statement
Successful completion of this CME activity, which includes participation in the evaluation component, enables the participant to earn up to 14.0 Medical Knowledge MOC points in the American Board of Internal Medicine’s (ABIM) Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program. It is the CME activity provider’s responsibility to submit participant completion information to ACCME for the purpose of granting ABIM MOC credit.

Photography Waiver
From time-to-time, NYSGE takes photographs or video during educational courses and events and reproduces them in educational, informational or promotional materials including print, electronic or other media such as the NYSGE website. By participating in the Annual New York Course and associated programs, you grant NYSGE the right to use your name and photograph for such purposes and all such postings become the property of NYSGE.

PROGRAMMING

In addition to nursing-specific programming, all of the physician programs are open to GI nurses and associates and will be submitted for nursing contact hours, apart from the poster session, certain lunch sessions, and optional advanced programs.

LEARNING OUTCOME

After this program, participants will be able to review the pathophysiology of GI diseases, evaluate current advances in diagnostic and therapeutic endoscopy, and identify evidence-based best practices for novel medical, endoscopic, surgical and nursing approaches to the management of digestive diseases.

CERTIFICATION BOARD FOR STERILE PROCESSING AND DISTRIBUTION

This activity has been submitted to the Certification Board for Sterile Processing and Distribution, Inc. (CBSPD) for continuing education units toward maintenance of certification.
LIVE from New York!

Telecast throughout the course from NYU Langone Health – Tisch Hospital. Procedures may include:

- Ampullectomy
- Challenging Polypectomy & EMR
- ERCP & Cholangioscopy
- Chromoendoscopy for IBD
- Deep Enteroscopy
- Endoscopic Fundoplication
- ESD and POEM
- Esophageal, Duodenal, and Colonic Stents
- EUS FNA & Cyst Drainage
- Endoscopic Suturing & Obesity Therapy
- Ablative Therapies for Barrett’s Esophagus

10th Annual Scientific Poster Session and Reception
Thursday, December 19 • 5:00 pm to 6:15 pm

Guidelines
- Individuals currently enrolled in an accredited medical school, residency, or three-year Gastroenterology fellowship are eligible to submit, as are trainees enrolled in Advanced Endoscopy, Hepatology, IBD or Motility fellowships
- Applicants are not required to be the lead author, but must have contributed significantly and meaningfully to the research study
- Any clinical topic within Gastroenterology or Hepatology is suitable for submission, although case reports will not be accepted
- Abstracts submitted to a national meeting (DDW, ACG, AASLD) in the past year are eligible
- Acceptance by NYSGE does not preclude future submission to other conferences
- The body of the abstract is limited to 2,900 characters, including spaces
- If selected, posters may be no larger than 4’ x 8’
- Judges and course attendees will view the posters from 5:00 pm to 6:15 pm, during which time all presenters must be in attendance
- An NYSGE Fellows Research Award will be presented to the top three scoring posters, and the winners announced at the next NYSGE Annual Dinner and Business Meeting
- All those who submit must be NYSGE Trainee members. To apply visit Join NYSGE > Membership Options > Trainee Member on our website, www.nysge.org. Membership is complimentary for trainees, but a brief application is required. Please contact info@nysge.org for assistance.

Submission Instructions
Step 1
- Include your Full Name, Institution, Email Address, and Phone Number at the top of the first page of your abstract. Abstracts without this information will not be reviewed.
- Only MS Word and PDF file formats are acceptable
- Name your file as follows: Your Last Name – Institution – Abbreviated Title of Abstract
- Email your file to both info@nysge.org and kcervenka@nysge.org

Step 2
- Complete the brief online application by visiting Annual Course > Poster Session Submission on the website.

Special Offer
The 43rd Annual New York Course registration fee will be waived for fellows with accepted posters (limited to one per poster session abstract), pending grant approval.

10th Annual Scientific Poster Session and Reception
Thursday, December 19 • 5:00 pm to 6:15 pm

Submission Deadline
Monday, October 28

Instructions for complimentary registration will be sent separately after notification of acceptance.

Fellows Forum
Thursday, December 19 • 6:15 pm – 7:15 pm

Fellows and recent GI graduates are invited to attend this open exchange about securing a job in academia or private practice, negotiating a contract, and other career-related topics

Exhibits
Many outstanding companies are participating. Take advantage of this opportunity to learn about the latest products and services of importance to your patients and practice. Breakfasts and breaks will be hosted in the exhibit area.

Submission Deadline
Monday, October 28

Peter D. Stevens, MD
Endoscopic Video Forum
Thursday, December 19 • 2:45 pm to 3:10 pm

Guidelines
- Subject matter must be endoscopic in nature and pose a clinical challenge or demonstrate an intriguing technique
- Files may be no more than 3 minutes in length and should include a narrative audio track that will be used for review purposes, but will not be part of the live presentation
- Up to five videos will be selected. If chosen, you must be present to narrate your video during the video forum on the above day. A two-minute panel discussion will follow each presentation
- An award will be presented to the top video, and the winner announced at the next NYSGE Annual Dinner and Business Meeting

Submission Instructions
- Prepare an MS Word file that includes your Full Name, Institution, Email Address, and Phone Number
- Name both this and your video file as follows: Your Last Name – Institution – Title of Video
- Email just your MS Word file to both info@nysge.org and kcervenka@nysge.org
- Once received, you will be sent instructions on how to submit your video file
- Your video file should include 1) a title slide, and 2) a final slide with bullet points summarizing key information

Exhibit Hours
Thursday, December 19 from 7:30 am to 6:00 pm
Friday, December 20 from 7:30 am to 4:00 pm
Option 1

Annual New York GI Fellows Endoscopy Course

Robbins, MD, MSc; Amrita Sethi, MD, MSc; Reem Z. Sharaiha, MD, MSc; Stavros N. Stavropoulos, MD; Arvind Trindade, MD; Jessica L. Widmer, DO; Julie Yang, MD

Intended Audience
Second, Third and Fourth-Year Fellows in Gastroenterology

Course Description
This course is designed to increase knowledge, competence, and performance of advanced therapeutic endoscopy techniques among gastroenterology trainees. Information will be delivered through lectures, audience question and answers, and hands-on educational sessions. Best practice techniques across a broad spectrum of therapeutic endoscopy will be presented by a faculty of nationally known interventional endoscopists.

Learning Objectives
By attending this course, learners will be able to review, discuss or demonstrate:
- ERCP techniques for safe and successful biliary and pancreatic cannulation, sphincterotomy and cholangioscopy
- Endoscopic management of benign and malignant biliary strictures
- Various options and techniques for EUS-guided biopsy
- Indications, contraindications, and techniques for EUS-guided drainage
- Optimal approaches for endoscopic mucosal resection, endoscopic submucosal dissection and ablation
- Various options for mucosal and full-thickness closure after resection or perforation
- Techniques for endoscopic assessment of GI luminal strictures and placement of luminal stents

Option 2

Yes, You Can Do That! Adding More Endoscopy Skills to Your Practice
Wednesday, December 18, 2019 • 6:00 pm – 9:00 pm

Course Directors
Adam J. Goodman, MD and Lauren G. Khanna, MD, MS

Faculty
Petros C. Benias, MD; Jonathan M. Buscaglia, MD; Rabia A. De Latour, MD; David Greenwald, MD; Melissa Latorre, MD; Srihari Mahadev, MD, MS; Sam Serouya, MD; Reem Z. Sharaiha, MD, MSc; Anthony A. Starpoli, MD; Arvind Trindade, MD

Intended Audience
Gastroenterologists and GI Fellows

Course Description
This workshop will enable gastroenterologists to expand their endoscopic toolkit to enhance patient care and treatment. The course will help practitioners broaden patient care options by providing training for procedures and techniques they may not currently offer in their practices. In addition, the program will expose gastroenterologists to new devices and products which might be employed during procedures that are currently offered.

Learning Objectives
- Use a variety of products and devices for endoscopic control of bleeding including hemostat spray, endoscopic clips, and APC
- Employ methods for detection of dysplasia, including chroendoendoscopy, NBI, and distal attachments; and methods for removal or destruction of dysplastic lesions using colon EMR, cap band EMR and hybrid APC
- Practice endoscopic dilation and foreign body removal
- Perform endoscopic treatment of hemorrhoids

Course Description
With the recent development of remarkably effective antiviral drugs for hepatitis C, there is increasing focus on management of patients cured of HCV infection but still at risk for complications of advanced liver disease and hepatocellular carcinoma. Simultaneously, intense attention has shifted to other liver diseases including hepatitis B and fatty liver disease, which is emerging as a global epidemic projected to be the leading indication for liver transplantation within a few years. This program will explore difficult hepatitis B management decisions, such as whether to treat immune tolerant patients or to stop treatment in those with years of viral suppression on nucleotide therapy, and how to identify patients at risk for adverse liver-related outcomes. Current approaches to diagnostic dilemmas as well as management approaches to the emerging epidemic of nonalcoholic fatty liver disease will be discussed. Recent data on the management of portal hypertension, complications and eloquent new therapeutic approaches to advanced liver disease, and management guidance for participants in everyday practice will also be presented. Changes to the transplant listing policies for liver cancer as well as latest treatment approaches will be reviewed.

Learning Objectives
• Compare the arguments pertaining to difficult management decisions in hepatitis B, such as treatment of immune tolerant patients, prevention of reactivation guidance and discontinuation of therapy after long-term viral suppression
• Describe how to use noninvasive tools in the assessment of fatty liver disease to identify which patients are at risk of liver-related morbidity and mortality and evaluate latest treatment advances
• Review the latest data on approaches to management of portal hypertension, a frequent complication of cirrhosis, and review primary prevention strategies
• Review the evolving transplant listing rules for hepatocellular carcinoma and current management approaches, while evaluating locoregional ablative treatments including the role of new systemic options

Course Description
This symposium will present an update for clinicians on the newest research about inflammatory bowel disease (IBD). The practice of managing IBD is continuously transformed by the introduction of new treatments and diagnostic tools. This program will examine the positioning of biologics, therapeutic drug monitoring, biomarkers, and new diagnostic tests for inflammatory bowel disease.

Learning Objectives
• Identify factors to consider in the positioning of biologics in treating inflammatory bowel disease
• Describe the benefits and limitations of the use of biomarkers and diagnostic tests used in inflammatory bowel disease
• Recognize how drug levels can be managed to optimize treatment for inflammatory bowel disease

Active and Trainee Members
Active and Trainee Members must login with their User Name and Password to obtain member rates. GI fellows and residents who are not NYSGE members must apply for Trainee Membership before registering. Trainee Membership is complimentary, but an application is required. Please visit Annual Course > Registration on the website for further information.

Non-Member Physicians and GI Nurses and Associates
Non-member physicians and GI nurses and associates should login to their User Account. Those who have never attended an NYSGE program will need to create a User Account before registering. Visit Annual Course > Registration on the website for further information. If you do not remember your login information, please email info@nysge.org or call 646-218-0650 before creating a new account.

Payment Methods
Registration and payment by credit card should be made online through NYSGE’s secure website (www.nysge.org). For assistance with login issues, please contact us at info@nysge.org or call 646-218-0650.

Online registration is the fastest and most secure way to confirm your registration and fee. Those unable to pay by credit card may submit a check. First, access your profile at www.nysge.org and print the “My Billing Information” page. Mail this with your check so that we can locate your account.

Payment must be received by the indicated deadlines to qualify for published discounts. Please allow 2 weeks for all mailings to reach us. Registrations received after published deadline dates will not be processed until the correct fee is received. Once your check and My Billing Information page is mailed, please email info@nysge.org to notify us of your intent to register.

Cancellation Policy
Refund less $50 processing fee for the Annual Course and Optional Advanced Courses will be given when requested in writing and submitted no later than December 11, 2019. No refunds will be made after this date.

Hotel and Parking

Hotel Information
New York Marriott Marquis Hotel
1535 Broadway, New York, NY 10036

For a great experience, we encourage all attendees and exhibitors to stay at the New York Marriott Marquis Hotel during the Annual New York Course. You’ll be at the center of the entire program, bypass travel delays due to weather and traffic congestion, and help NYSGE to meet its obligations to the hotel.

Situated in exciting Times Square, the New York Marriott Marquis Hotel offers easy access to entertainment, cultural venues, numerous restaurants, and world-famous shopping. During the conference, the city will be ablaze with color for the holiday season, offering a wonderful opportunity to combine an outstanding educational experience with the splendor of New York at holiday time.

This year’s guest room rate is the same as last year—$379 plus tax (currently 14.75%) plus $3.50 occupancy fee per room per night for rooms booked by Monday, November 18, 2019, based on availability. However, rooms are limited and the $379 room block may sell out before November 18, 2019. Group rates will not be available after this date, but the hotel will do its best to accommodate you at prevailing rates.

The group rate is available online or by phone:

- Visit our website www.nysge.org, Annual Course > Hotel Information
- Call 1-877-303-0104 (toll free) or 1-212-398-1900 (local). To receive group rates, be sure to mention our group name: NYSGE Annual Course

Parking Information
Parking is not included in the registration fee. Parking is available at the Marriott and in numerous parking garages in the Times Square area. A list of local garages can be found on the website at Annual Course > Hotel Information.
